Dear Wrens and Robins,

We have heard that you are all amazing scientists and we need your help!

A mysterious box of animals has arrived at our pet shop! We have never seen animals like them before and we need some incredible pet detectives like you to help us answer these questions:

- Where are these animals from?
- What is their habitat and what sort of homes do they need?
- What should we feed them?
- How should we look after them?

Please spend some time with these animals to find out all about them.

Thank you so much for all your help. We are really looking forward to learning all about our mysterious animals.

With best wishes

Jack Stripy and Jill Spotty
